

GUTSY GODDESSES

We are wild women and ordinary goddesses climbing mountains, crossing seas, fording rivers, embracing nature & journeying across foreign lands & inner landscapes. Some have faced challenges—from cancer to sexual assault, divorce to self-discovery. Others are explorers seeking escape or coming home to their whole selves. One has climbed to 24,000' on Mt. Everest, another has escaped a warring homeland, a third has sailed around the world twice with all-female crews, others have created & led non- and for- profit successes, many have battled life-threatening diseases or abusive relationships. We are a sisterhood of strong & emerging voices with unfolding stories of courage—a tribe of transcendence. It takes a Tribe to hold up the Sky.
